Consensus decision-making is a group decision-making process in which group members develop, and agree to support a decision in the best interest of the whole group or common goal. Consensus may be defined professionally as an acceptable resolution, one that can be supported, even if not the "favourite" of each individual.

Hi Great website. Just a couple of points re Hattieâ€™s top-ten. No2: Although you have correctly described Piagetian Programs, the research Hattie cites only refers to the fact that if you assess students using a Piagetian test of thinking level (not on the topic), and then give them a subject/topic test, there is a close correlation.

Glossary of Hattie's influences on student achievement

John Hattie developed a way of synthesizing various influences in different meta-analyses according to their effect size (Cohenâ€™s d). In his ground-breaking study –Visible Learning– he ranked 138 influences that are related to learning outcomes from very positive effects to very negative effects. Hattie found that the average effect size of all the interventions he studied was 0.40.
