Cloning is the process of producing genetically identical individuals of an organism either naturally or artificially. In nature, many organisms produce clones through asexual reproduction. Cloning in biotechnology refers to the process of creating clones of organisms or copies of cells or DNA fragments (molecular cloning). Beyond biology, the term refers to the production of multiple copies of ...

An initialization vector (IV) or starting variable (SV) is a block of bits that is used by several modes to randomize the encryption and hence to produce distinct ciphertexts even if the same plaintext is encrypted multiple times, without the need for a slower re-keying process. An initialization vector has different security requirements than a key, so the IV usually does not need to be secret.

Abstract. We use a unique administrative dataset of over 10,000 taxi drivers in Singapore to study the labor supply decisions of these drivers. Our results indicate that both intra-day and across days, cab drivers deviate from the neoclassical economic model and that their labor supply is affected by a reference level of income.
